

Lauren Carroll Results - Six Figure Settlements

2013

Workers' Compensation: $175,000 – In 2013, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case involving a woman who worked in a big-box home improvement store and hurt her knee badly, requiring a serious surgery. As a result of her work injury, she had permanent work restrictions.

Workers' Compensation: $220,000 – In 2013, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case involving an accountant who slipped on an icy sidewalk on his way to work and suffered a debilitating back injury. He required a very complex surgery.

2014

Workers' Compensation: $200,000 – In 2014, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case involving a driver who slipped on water that was surrounding his truck and suffered serious back, hip and left leg injuries. He had significant permanent work restrictions. He could no longer move the way he could prior to the injury; his ability to work was therefore significantly limited.

Workers' Compensation: $200,000 – In 2014, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case for a client who was in a forklift accident and suffered head, neck and eye injuries.

2015

Workers' Compensation: $275,000 – In 2015, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved an occupational asthma case. Our client was exposed to mold in a ventilation system while at work, resulting in a respiratory illness known as RADS, Reactive Airway Dysfunction Syndrome, an asthma-like syndrome that develops from a single exposure to high levels of an irritant.

Workers' Compensation: $249,000 – In 2015, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case involving our client, a physician assistant who slipped on spilled rubbing alcohol while assisting in the operating room. She injured her back severely, resulting in a pain disorder called arachnoiditis, an irritation of nerves around the spinal cord characterized by severe stinging, burning pain and neurological problems.

Workers' Compensation: $175,000 – In 2015, attorneys Lauren Carroll and Elyse Stiner jointly resolved this case for our client. The client slipped and fell at her retail place of employment as she was hurrying to retrieve something for a customer, causing severe injuries to her back and neck.

2016

Workers' Compensation: $245,000 – In 2016, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case for a client who was driving a tractor trailer truck, suffered a seizure while she was driving and had a terrible accident: the truck rolled over and skidded across four lanes of Interstate 95. She had to have a 14-inch rod surgically implanted in her back.

Workers' Compensation: $100,000 – In 2016, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case in which our client lost consciousness in a physician's office while getting stitches removed and fell and hit his head, suffering a traumatic brain injury.

Workers' Compensation: $100,000 – In 2016, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case in which our client was unloading a cable wheel from a tractor trailer truck and felt a discernible pop in his shoulder, suffering an extreme shoulder injury.

Workers' Compensation: $100,000 – In 2016, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case in which our client was unloading large bags of bird seed from a truck while working in the warehouse of a big-box home improvement store and hurt her back severely in the process. As a result of her work injury, she had permanent work restrictions.

Workers' Compensation: $100,000 – In 2016, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case in which our client, a correctional facility employee, was lifting a large box of restraints when he felt a pop in his lower back, resulting in severe spasms in his right lower back. He suffered pulled muscles in his back and legs, in addition to bulging discs in his spine that caused radiating pain along the nerve routes on his entire left side.

Workers' Compensation: $261,500 – In 2016, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case in which our client, a tractor trailer truck driver, was driving through snowy, windy conditions, with the snow freezing into ice. The truck jackknifed and was blown into a ditch by the wind. He suffered a severe neck and shoulder injury that required multiple surgeries.

Workers' Compensation: $225,000 – In 2016, attorney Lauren Carroll and Seth Carroll jointly resolved a workers' compensation case in which our client, a lead diesel technician, suffered severe injuries to his lower back while at work. In addition to his physical injury, he developed mental health issues and required additional treatment.

Workers' Compensation: $115,000 – In 2016, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case in which our client, a mechanic, was swinging a sledgehammer trying to remove a welded spindle from a trailer axle. He hurt his wrist and his hand while swinging the sledgehammer.

2017

Workers' Compensation: $120,000 – In 2017, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case in which our client, an employee for a big-box home improvement store, suffered a severe lower back injury when a forklift pinned him forward instead of in reverse. The forklift driver was inexperienced and didn't apply the brake correctly, pinning him and causing the injuries.

Workers' Compensation: $150,000 – In 2017, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case in which our client hurt his wrist while working at a bakery. He slipped on water, and fell on the wrist of his dominant arm, injuring it badly. He had to have hardware surgically installed in his wrist, which then got infected, causing him to need a second surgery to repair the damage. As a result of his work injury, he had permanent work restrictions for his arm, hand and wrist.

Workers' Compensation: $1,287,016 – In 2017, attorney Lauren Carroll successfully resolved a workers' compensation case in which our client sustained disabling injuries to his lower back while pushing a dumpster at work. He required four back surgeries and is permanently and totally disabled.